

Mission Statement

"Providing the spiritual and educational tools necessary for a long-term recovery from the illness of addiction and for the beginning of a successful life."

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Christian Recovery Centers, Inc. is a non-profit organization offering comprehensive drug and alcohol treatment and recovery services to individuals struggling with addiction. We differ from conventional short-term rehabilitation centers in that we offer a broad range of recovery resources, including a 12-step program and professional therapeutic services, as part of our treatment curriculum. Our approach also incorporates traditional educational and social reform methods to support residents in their recovery journey at no cost to them or their families except as noted (ie, personal needs, such as certain medical, dental, etc.)

Our program is experience-based and has been shown to be effective for anyone who is willing to engage in the recovery process. Our primary objective is to equip each resident with the spiritual and educational tools necessary for a sustained recovery from addiction and a successful future.

Recovery from addiction is unique in that it requires the full participation of the individual for the process to be successful. As such, CRCI requires all participants to willingly enter our residential program.

Admission

Admission to Christian Recovery Centers, Inc. (CRCI) is open to qualified applicants who are 18 years of age or older and seeking assistance for substance use disorders. A personal interview is a mandatory component of the admissions process, and interested applicants may be placed on a waitlist until placement becomes available. To ensure the safety of all residents, prospective residents must be detoxed or provide a physician's clearance prior to being accepted into the program.

Please note that CRCI is not a medical detoxification center and all residents will be required to undergo a breath and urine analysis upon arrival. Random drug screenings will be conducted regularly to maintain a drug-free environment. Communication with individuals outside of the program, including in-person visits, phone calls, and mail, is strictly prohibited until the resident has completed the initial phase of their program. This policy applies to all activities, both on and off the campus. Applicants should strive to extend all possible personal appointments to provide each participant with the opportunity to complete the program without interruption. If necessary, the intake team will provide an acceptance letter for legal proceedings that require documentation (such as a continuance.)

Motivational Track (Introductory Phase)

While all phases of CRCI programs can vary in length based on performance, the Motivational Track (Moto Track) phase of the program will typically be completed in 4-6 weeks. This phase serves as a foundation, easing residents from an unstructured lifestyle to a regimented, therapeutic environment. Here, they begin to acclimate to the program's demands at a manageable pace, learning to adhere to policies, respond positively to challenging situations, and integrate new knowledge effectively. Medications supporting the detox process are offered, if needed, during this time to reduce the body's negative response to the sudden absence of chemicals on which it has become dependent. This phase is offered as an independent clinical treatment program that includes a Comprehensive Clinical Assessment (CCA), SACOT counseling services, and medication assisted treatment as needed. This portion of the program is presented as an introduction to our more robust recovery phases. Residents will receive more clinical attention in this part of the program than in any other phase, addressing their needs to help them stabilize, while mentally, emotionally, and physically preparing for the lifestyle changes that a healthy long term recovery demands. Once they have met the basic requirements, demonstrated a willingness to proceed, and placement is available, they will be eligible to move on to Phase I of the residential program.

Phase 1 of CRCI Program

Phase 1 is when residents will transition out of addiction treatment services as their primary function, and into the recovery program. This phase lasts 6-8 weeks and provides a structured environment for spiritual growth and recovery. Our approach focuses on empowering each program participant to actively participate in their own recovery journey and develop healthy decision-making skills. This phase introduces a new approach to decision-making that emphasizes personal responsibility and ethics to promote sustainable growth and recovery.

A daily schedule is provided to all residents to aid in their progress through each phase of the program. Daily chore and project assignments, kitchen duties, and laundry days are posted on the scheduling boards for residents to review each morning. Participation in basic functions are a key component of developing a healthy practice of daily living by meeting short term goals while beginning to experience a low level of exposure to the more complex recovery processes, such as increasing community involvement, adopting higher moral ideals, and adhering to a more rigorously structured environment. We have proposed a continuous plan of action that incorporates evidence-based recovery into long-term daily living. Residents will work with temporary sponsors, mentors, and group leaders to learn how to do a moral inventory, confession of shortcomings, restitution for harm done, and participate in service to others.

Phase II of CRCI Program

Once the eligibility date for phase 2 has been reached and the resident has completed all required evaluations and assessments, a comprehensive performance review will be conducted by the program staff and senior residents. This Phase is 6-8 weeks. This review will be documented in the resident's file and will provide valuable feedback on their progress, including areas of strength, areas for improvement, and program compliance. The areas of assessment will include, but are not limited to, adherence to policies and procedures, character development, attitude towards oneself and others, and participation in the program.

Successful completion of the first phase will make residents eligible for advancement to the second phase, which offers a unique opportunity to further their recovery journey by taking on increased responsibility and leadership roles. Residents accepted into phase 2 should have a solid understanding of the program operations and spiritual principles, as well as an understanding with the first three steps of the 12-step program and the overall recovery process. The duration of this phase will range from 6-8 weeks.

Note that phase 2 is a privilege that will only be granted to residents who have demonstrated active engagement in their recovery journey. Attendance at all meetings and functions is mandatory for phase 2 residents.

Phase III of CRCI Program (Exit Strategy)

Following successful completion of Phase II, residents will be scheduled for a meeting with the staff to assess their progress and create a timeline for their promotion into Phase III. This meeting will also include a discussion to determine if the resident will be awarded a Senior Resident leadership role and to further evaluate the resident's understanding of the principles and practices needed for sustained recovery and a productive life.

Residents who demonstrate the capability during the third phase will be assigned the role of mentor to residents in the first or second phase of the program. We believe in the principle that "the student never truly learns until they become the teacher" and that true retention of knowledge and skills is achieved through sharing them with others. As such, Phase III residents will be expected to take responsibility for the needs and well-being of their assigned Phase I residents, promoting a positive attitude and providing any necessary resources for their participation.

As experienced residents, Phase III residents will not only be expected to adhere to program policies but to also serve as leaders, instructing and enforcing these policies with all residents, including their Phase III peers. The servant-leader model of leadership will be emphasized, in which leaders prioritize the needs of others and facilitate their growth and success.

The staff meeting to determine Phase III entry will also initiate the creation of an individualized exit strategy for each resident. During Phase III, residents will continue to meet with staff weekly to further develop this plan, covering areas such as continuing care, finances, employment, living arrangements, and long-term goals. Our objective is to provide a safe and supportive environment during the early stages of recovery and to facilitate a smooth transition back into normal life.

In addition to the ongoing development of their exit strategy, Phase III residents will receive instruction on finance, budgeting, and balancing work and recovery. Upon successful completion of Phase III and approval of their exit strategy, residents may be eligible for financial assistance from CRCI, up to a maximum of $500, to cover expenses such as rent, transportation, and other necessary costs as determined during the exit strategy process. However, this is subject to the availability of CRCI's financial resources and may be adjusted based on the resident's performance and future planning efforts. All graduating residents entering Phase 4 will have 2 weeks of program fees deducted from this completion gift to provide them with an opportunity to start their journey in a healthy financial position.

The goal of Phase III is to provide residents with the necessary resources and support to transition smoothly from the structured program environment to a more moderate living situation. This phase will only be offered to residents who remain engaged and open to instruction, continuing to work with staff to develop and execute their exit strategy as they did with their initial recovery process.

Phase 4 Reentry Program: Phase 4 is the final phase of CRCI programs, and is optional for all graduates who wish to continue receiving services from CRCI. To see detailed guidelines, see the 1. CRCI Phase 4 Program Outline

PROGRAM GUIDELINES

PHASE UP APPLICATION: The length of the program is contingent on the resident's demonstration of progress, as evidenced by their behavior, communication, and attitude. A designated eligibility date for advancement to the subsequent phase can be inferred from the date of promotion out of the previous phase. To be considered for promotion, residents must submit the relevant application packet within 5 days of the eligibility date. Failure to submit the packet by the specified deadline will indicate the resident's desire for additional time in the current phase. Residents are encouraged to consult resident management for further information on obtaining the application and to confirm receipt after submission. In the event that the required work is not completed in a timely manner or to the satisfaction of the staff, the next eligible promotion date may be postponed accordingly. Approval is based primarily on performance, personal development, and responsibility.

DISMISSAL FROM PROGRAM: Residents may face dismissal from the program for non-adherence to established program policies and procedures. The agency follows a three-strike policy for minor violations, leading to dismissal after the fourth recorded disciplinary action. CRCI reserves the right to modify these guidelines at any time and ignorance of the guidelines will not be considered a valid defense against disciplinary action or dismissal. Upon dismissal, residents must promptly vacate the program for the safety of other residents and to maintain a suitable recovery environment. Personal belongings not retrieved within 24 hours will be disposed of. Dismissed residents are not permitted to remain on the premises after checkout. If the resident has any legal or medical concerns, CRCI may notify the designated legal authority or emergency contact listed in the resident's file. Residents who leave the program prematurely are not allowed to return to the campus without prior arrangement.

ADDITIONAL SCREENING: Upon arrival and at any time deemed necessary by authorized staff, residents' belongings will undergo a search to ensure the safety and suitability of the recovery environment. Residents are not required to be present during the search of personal belongings. Regular drug and alcohol testing will be conducted to ensure compliance with program policy.

MEDICAL ASSISTANCE: See Approved/Prohibited Medications List for more information about medications approved for use at CRCI. Residents will receive support when available for minor medical appointments, such as approved medication refills or dental emergencies. CRCI makes an effort to ensure affordable medical care when possible through partnering agencies, but personal medical expenses will remain the responsibility of the resident. Requests for medical assistance must be submitted to the office with a clear description of the issue. Pre-existing medical conditions must be disclosed prior to admission, and appropriate arrangements must be made to care for these conditions. Residents who require continuous care of medical conditions that place a burden on the program may be referred to alternative programs with more robust medical support. In case of a medical emergency, residents will be referred to the nearest emergency room at their own expense. Residents must be accompanied and supervised during medical visits and are responsible for providing all documentation related to the medical visit when they return to the campus. Residents will not be permitted to return to the program without discharge paperwork and a clean breath and urine analysis. CRCI may notify the emergency contact listed by the resident. The distribution of prescriptions is the responsibility of the resident and non-compliant residents may be dismissed. CRCI is not a medical facility and does not provide professional medical care. CRCI is not responsible for the cost of emergency room visits, ambulance transportation, treatment, or evacuation.

Mood or mind-altering substances: CRCI programs do not function as medical facilities and do not employ medical personnel. Residents who possess a diagnosis or require prescription medication necessitating a level of care beyond what CRCI offers will be referred to alternative programs. However, certain low-risk mood and mind-altering medications, prescribed before admission, may be authorized for use within CRCI programs, subject to pre-approval prior to intake. The acquisition or usage of unauthorized mood or mind-altering substances, regardless of whether they are prescribed or over-the-counter, such as sleep aids, non-caffeine stimulants, narcotics, narcotic substitutes, and other substances known to induce a "legal high," may result in immediate dismissal from the program. Use of illegal drugs or alcohol will result in an immediate discharge from the program whether the resident is present or not, and if they do not return to collect their property within 24 hours it will be considered abandoned.

TRANSPORTATION: Residents are responsible for their own transportation to and from the CRCI program. Upon discharge, residents may be provided with transportation to a nearby public location, but may be financially responsible for any additional transportation costs incurred. Personal vehicles are not permitted during any phase of the program. Transportation for personal appointments, such as medical, legal, or personal business, is limited to an as-needed basis to minimize disruptions to the treatment curriculum.

SICK LEAVE: During their residency, residents who experience illness may request permission to take a day of rest in bed. On a sick leave day, residents will be confined to their bed for the entire duration and are prohibited from entering the kitchen for any reason. The kitchen staff will be responsible for delivering three meals to the resident's room. Residents are allotted two sick days per phase of residency, and any additional days will not be credited towards the completion date. The graduation date may be postponed by an equivalent number of days for any excessive sick days taken, excluding any quarantine or isolation periods related to COVID-19. Residents must secure approval from the staff before using a sick leave day and any consistent abuse of the sick leave policy may result in a restart of the phase.

ELECTRONIC DEVICES: Electronic devices including cell phones, smart watches, iPods, tablets, computers etc... are strictly forbidden and will be removed from campus at resident's expense. If caught with an unapproved cell phone or other electronic communications device at any time in the program, the resident will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal from the program. Television is prohibited during daytime hours Monday through Friday. Residents will be allowed to listen to approved radio or music during appropriate daytime hours at a volume that does not disturb others. Secular music is prohibited on all campuses and in all company vehicles. Computer access for exit planning purposes may be approved by staff during the final phase. Access to social media is strictly prohibited.

GAMBLING: Gambling of any form, including purchase of lottery tickets, is forbidden in all phases of the program.

HVAC: Operation of heating and air units of all kinds are restricted to approved individuals only. Do not touch.

MAIL CONTACT: Mail contact may be permitted upon completion of the phase in which the resident initially entered the program. All incoming and outgoing mail must be from immediate family approved by staff. All incoming packages will be searched upon arrival and prohibited items will be confiscated and disposed of. All contact is limited to immediate family members only (parents, siblings, spouse or children). If mail is received from an unapproved person, it may be returned if the sender pays for shipping. Otherwise, all items will be disposed of or donated to a local charity. Individual food items will not be distributed- if accepted, all food will be entered into the community supply.

MONEY POLICY: Residents will only be allowed $20 a week on their persons at any time while in the program. All excess personal money will be stored by staff and the allowed $20 will be distributed on the same day every week if the program makes a shopping visit available to residents. Money earned through all program opportunities will be awarded upon completion of the program.

STORE POLICY: Residents may be able to have a maximum of one store stop each week if approved by the Director of Operations. No unauthorized store stops are permitted for anyone transporting residents. Residents will be supervised at all times while in the store, and prohibited items will be confiscated if purchased and disciplinary action may be taken.

PHONE CONTACT: Residents who remain in good standing, without major disciplinary actions may, after a period of four weeks, have the opportunity for one fifteen-minute phone call or two ten-minute phone calls per week to an immediate family member only (mother, father, sibling, wife or children). If the resident is the parent of multiple children in the household, the resident may speak to each child for an additional 5 minutes. This must be noted on the signup sheet and will be subject to the time available to the program for calls on that day. There will be no contact with friends, unmarried intimate partners, or anyone who is not a legal relative. Phone calls will be supervised, and staff will determine which immediate family member a resident may contact using the information they provided on the resident contact sheet upon admission. All contacts will be verified by staff and proof of relation may be required (ID, marriage certificate, etc.). No incoming calls are permitted. Phone call times during occupational training or community service opportunities and other events will be adjusted to reasonable hours during workdays and may not always be on a Saturday or Sunday. Family members may contact the main office to leave messages or to initiate contact in the case of an emergency that requires the resident's attention. CRCI may contact any person for whom a resident provides contact information for the purposes of furthering the resident's care and notification of address changes and residential status.

VIDEO VISITATION: A program Director may approve residents to participate in a supervised video chat with immediate family. The primary purpose of this privilege is to provide a more personal connection for children whose parents are away from them during the course of their treatment. Video chats with family may begin at the start of visitation privileges and will be subject to the limitations of time and supervision coverage of the program, but the recommended timeframe for this type of visitation is once every 2 weeks for Phase 2 and 3 residents.

VISITATION: Phase 2 & 3 residents who have been approved by staff may schedule one in-person visit with immediate family while in the program. During visitation, residents must remain with the approved person(s) (immediate family member or other approved by staff) who picked them up and must follow the program guidelines while on visit (no phone or computer use is allowed). Any resident who is found to be with unapproved persons will be immediately dismissed from the program. CRCI is not responsible for resident transportation to and from visitation. Visitations must take place on Saturday between 9 A.M. and 7 P.M. The family is approved to attend the Sunday morning church service with the resident on the following day if they choose to do so. A resident's family must contact the office and ask to schedule one week in advance for visitation. Approval is at the discretion of staff to ensure that it does not interfere with program scheduling. Resident's person and/or bags will be searched upon return from any off-campus activity, including family visitation. Any unauthorized items brought back from visitation will be confiscated and disposed of. A drug, alcohol, and nicotine test will be administered upon return to campus.

OFF CAMPUS PROCEDURE: At staff discretion, residents will attend off campus events and functions where they will be expected to remain in a group. Residents will fill in all seats from front to back in designated sections of any seating arrangement. Restrooms may be used before or after the event or function but will not be available during. If any resident needs to leave the group for any reason, including to use the restroom, they must ask permission and be accompanied by a senior resident or staff member. Residents will be expected to return to the group as quickly as possible. Verbal contact should be kept brief with all persons outside of the program. If friends or family are present during a church service, contact is not allowed in any form unless written approval was granted prior to the event.

WORKFORCE REDEVELOPMENT PROGRAM: Residents will be given the opportunity to learn valuable skills by participating in Trade School type activities and interacting with potential employers on projects staffed by CRCI residents. Further information about this important component of residents' recovery is found in the Workforce Redevelopment Program Overview.

ON THE JOB TRAINING/CONNECTION OPPORTUNITIES: Residents may participate in select On the job training opportunities. This will require that a resident be willing to work in scheduled events with a positive attitude while being physically capable of standing/walking for extended periods of time. Residents must also be able to travel across state lines without legal restrictions. Fundraiser trips are designed to support the organization so that the program may continue to offer care without requiring any financial obligation from residents or their families. As such, residents will not receive monetary compensation for their efforts but rather will begin to see the benefits of an altruistic lifestyle. This can potentially be one of the most effective virtues they come to learn that will continue to aid in their recovery process. We believe there is true value in selfless service. Residents may opt out of any fundraiser/volunteer service by simply informing the staff that they no longer wish to participate.

EXTENSION POLICY: Residents who have been found to be progressing at a rate deemed unacceptable by the Program Directors will be selected to have their graduation date extended by a then-determined amount of time. RESTART

POLICY: In the case of an extension not being the most productive measure, a resident who has been found to be repeatedly non-compliant with policy may be subject to a day 1 program restart, at the discretion of any director.

BELL AWARD: The purpose of the Bell Award program is to reinforce positive behaviors. Bell Awards are a type of positive behavioral reinforcement that is awarded to residents for doing good deeds, going above what is required of them, and attendance. Residents who are on time to every meeting in a day will automatically receive 1 Bell Award. Other awards will be given for exceptionally good interactions and behaviors, such as helping another resident or volunteering to do extra things that aren't necessarily expected. The awards will be tabulated and each resident will be able to use these awards to "purchase" additional privileges. During the excellence party residents will be able to have exceptions and privileges granted to them by program directors that other residents may not have the opportunity to experience.

EBT Benefits Disclosure:

- As an Alcohol and Drug Treatment Center (ATDC), Christian Recovery Centers, Inc. (CRCI) is the authorized user approved to manage EBT (Electronic Benefit Transfer) benefits on behalf of all residents of the recovery program.
- CRCI will submit an EBT application for each resident as they transition from the Motivational Track to Phase 1 of the program. This ensures that residents receive the necessary benefits to support their recovery journey.
- Upon a resident's completion or discharge from any CRCI program, CRCI will immediately notify the Department of Social Services (DSS). The individual can then contact their local DSS office to continue receiving benefits independently.
- Personal EBT Cards: CRCI will not use any personal EBT cards that residents may possess when entering the program, although they must be surrendered with all other financial items to be stored in a safe location during the program. Any funds on these personal cards will remain available to the resident for future use outside of CRCI.
- Impact on Other Benefits: Residents who receive Social Security or other government income will not see a reduction or impact on these benefits due to participation in the CRCI program.
- Eligibility Variations: Due to legal or other factors, some residents may receive fewer EBT benefits or may be denied entirely by DSS. Regardless of eligibility, all residents will receive the same quality and quantity of food. Residents denied benefits will not be served less or different food.
- Meal Preparation and Service: CRCI prepares and serves all meals in a "family style," meaning meals are prepared in bulk and served collectively. No individual meals will be provided.
- Special Dietary Needs: If a resident has a medical condition requiring a special diet that CRCI cannot accommodate, this should be disclosed during the application process. CRCI will then make an appropriate referral to a program that can better meet these dietary needs.

- All corrective action written assignments must be completed on time & must be completed before any recreational activities. (No watching TV, playing cards, sports, etc... until assignment is turned in.) If a resident does not complete their written assignment on time, it will be doubled. If the assignment is still refused, the resident will be considered noncompliant and the resident dropout PTC process will begin immediately.

Facial hair must not exceed ½" in length (equivalent to a #4 guard) and must be kept tidy. Regardless of length, if facial hair becomes unpresentable, the resident will be required to remove it entirely. Individual programs may require that their residents with longer hair keep it tied up and off the shoulders any time the resident is out of their room. Neatness will be determined by staff, and CRCI reserves the right to require residents to shave their face completely and cut their hair to a reasonable length if it is determined to be consistently unkempt, not properly covered (such as when participating in food service activities), or unsafe (such as when participating in WRP or fundraising activities).
- WRP activities may require that residents make additional adjustments to their appearance. For example: those participating in landscaping activities must sufficiently style or trim their hair in such a way that it is not in danger of being caught in machinery. Records kept by the staff of Christian Recovery Centers Inc. and its interns, associates, contractors, and volunteers (simplified as "CRCI" "CRCI staff" "staff" or "agency") may describe the services provided to you and contain the dates of counseling or therapy sessions, functional status, behavioral reports, symptoms, relevant notes, prognosis and progress, personal information disclosed by you or your records, and any psychological testing reports. Health care providers are legally allowed to use or disclose records or information for treatment and health care operations purposes. Except in cases of an emergency, as ordered by a judge, or as released by you, CRCI staff will share information about you and your treatment process for internal purposes only.

II. "Limits of Confidentiality"

Possible Uses and Disclosures of Mental Health Records without Consent or Authorization

There are some important exceptions to this rule of confidentiality – some exceptions created voluntarily by CRCI staff's discretion, some because of policies of this agency, and some required by law. In order to comply with and participate in the CRCI program you must agree to receive mental health services by signing this form, which indicates that you understand and accept these policies about confidentiality and their limits. You will discuss many private matters in an effort to provide agency with a better understanding of your treatment needs and to consider the effects these needs may have on your personal recovery. If you cannot read or understand this agreement it will be read to you, and a reasonable attempt will be made to ensure your understanding of the content of this agreement. This agreement is mandatory for receiving treatment or recovery services from CRCI.

CRCI staff may use or disclose records or other information about you without your consent or authorization in the following circumstances, either by policy, or because legally required:

- Emergency: If you are involved in a life-threatening emergency and CRCI staff cannot ask your permission, agency will share information if agency believes you would have wanted them to do so, or if agency believes it will be helpful to you. This includes credible threats of violence and cases of verbalizing imminent suicidal ideations, in which case agency may not ask your permission, and will act upon the reasonable assumption that a person being of sound mind would choose to be protected from harm from themselves or others.
- Child Abuse Reporting: If agency has reason to suspect that a child is abused or neglected, agency will report the matter immediately to the North Carolina Department of Social Services or law enforcement.
- Adult/Elder Abuse Reporting: If agency has reason to suspect that an elderly or incapacitated adult is abused, neglected or exploited, agency will immediately make a report and provide relevant information to the North Carolina Department of Welfare or Social Services and/or contact law enforcement.
- Court Proceedings: If you are involved in a court proceeding and a request is made for information about your diagnosis and treatment and the records thereof, such information is privileged under state law, and agency will not release information unless: you provide written authorization, or in the case a judge issues a court order. If CRCI staff receive a subpoena for records or testimony, agency may release your records in an effort to comply with the order. Agency may elect to contact you so that you may have an opportunity to block the order through the proper legal channels.
- Serious Threat to Health or Safety: If CRCI staff is engaged in our professional duties and you communicate to any person a specific and immediate threat to cause serious bodily injury or death, to an identified or to an identifiable person, and we believe you have the intent and ability to carry out that threat immediately or imminently, CRCI will take steps to protect third parties. These precautions may include 1) warning the potential victim(s), or the parent or guardian of the potential victim(s), if under 18, 2) notifying a law enforcement officer, or 3) seeking your hospitalization, which may include an involuntary commitment ordered by a magistrate or judge.

Other uses and disclosures of information not covered by this notice or by the laws that apply to CRCI staff will be made only with your written permission.

III. Patient's Rights and Provider's Duties:

- Right to Request Restrictions-You have the right to request restrictions on certain uses and disclosures of protected health information about you. You also have the right to request a limit on the medical information we disclose about you to someone who is involved in your care. If you ask me to disclose information to another party, you may request that we limit the information we disclose. However, we are not required to agree to a restriction you request. To request restrictions, you must make your request in writing, and include: 1) what information you want to limit; 2) whether you want to limit our use, disclosure or both; and 3) to whom you want the limits to apply.
- Right to a copy of this notice – You have the right to a paper copy of this notice. You may ask CRCI staff to provide you with a copy of this notice at any time. Changes to this notice: CRCI reserves the right to change these policies and/or to change this notice, and to make the changed notice effective for medical information we already have about you as well as any information received in the future. Workforce Redevelopment Program (WRP) Overview

Preface

Christian Recovery Centers, inc is a network of non-profit treatment centers serving those suffering from active addiction. We are not traditional short-term rehabilitation facilities. CRCI includes multiple types of recovery resources, including the 12-step program and therapeutic professional services in its treatment curriculums. Opportunities to move forward in the recovery process are also presented in a traditional educational and social reform standpoint to each resident at no cost to them or their families. This is a proven program that works absolutely for anyone willing to adopt it. Our primary purpose is to provide each resident with the spiritual and educational tools necessary for a long-term recovery from the illness of addiction and the beginning of a successful life. Unlike other illnesses, the process of recovery from the illness of addiction is unique in that it requires the full compliance of the host for the process of recovery to be successful.

Purpose

The purpose of the Workforce Redevelopment Program (WRP) is to better assist each resident in the search of meaningful employment after satisfactorily completing the treatment curriculum. It is our goal to produce opportunities in the residential treatment setting that will translate into lived experience, training hours and resume items for future employment. These opportunities will help to alleviate the unattractive gap that recovery participants incur from their months in residential treatment. This process will also provide certain residents recommendation letters from their immediate supervisors that can be utilized in the next employment opportunity.

Overview

The Workforce Redevelopment Program (WRP) works with 2 primary trade service industries.

1. Landscaping & Pressure Washing
2. Cleaning and Sanitation
3. Retail Store

These trades are found to be some of the most universal and competent jobs that can offer any type of employment ranging from a basic temporary position all the way to career employment. Upon entry, residents are asked to rank the trade services in terms of interest and skill set. Moving forward in their individual treatment curriculum they will be given opportunities to attend active jobs as part of their WRP training hours. On these jobs they will be offered guidance and instruction from their immediate supervisor in a hands-on type experience. All hours from the WRP are recorded and totaled in preparation for the resident's program completion. Residents graduate with certified training hours from one to potentially all three trades covered in the workforce redevelopment program. However, a narrow program that utilizes a more focused field is the most common practice for most residents.

Contract Services

Christian Recovery Centers, Inc holds many different event-based contracts for organizations such as PGA, Nascaar, State Fairs, Seasonal Amusement parks and many more. These contracts serve as a primary source of income for CRCI's program operations. One of the major benefits to program participants from these contract services include employment transitions from the residential setting into full time career opportunities with companies where employment partnerships exist, and the participant has already had exposure to the company. Applications can be submitted directly to these employers from the residential setting and all stages of the interview process can be completed before program completion.

Measure for Success

WRP is broken down into 5 attainable measures for success.

1. Increase program residents work ethic and on the job etiquette
2. Introduce program residents to other skill sets that will serve either as fall back or primary career
3. Provide resume items for program residents who would otherwise experience a gap in previous employment
4. Increase each graduates' employability through certified lived experience (on the job) training hours as well as recommendation letters from immediate supervisors
5. Increase graduates' opportunities for job mobility by certifying existing trade skills and introducing new, not yet developed trade skills

Program Enhancement (Understudy)

Select program residents who have shown an interest in pursuing a position in the addiction recovery field may have the opportunity to be selected as a staff member's full time understudy. Only extremely willing and motivated residents will be given this opportunity as it comes with more specialized training and leadership roles. Program residents selected for the understudy program enhancement will not only be offered training hours in an additional field but will also be given the opportunity to gain managerial experience. Many of these residents will engage with the Leadership Development Initiative and commit to an additional 6-months of training to solidify their expertise in their respective fields.

Understudies additional opportunities

1. Direct guidance and mentorship from program staff members in their field of expertise.
2. Managerial experience obtained in problem solving situations and direct leadership for special projects.
3. Access to training for essential staff positions in residential treatment centers.
4. Opportunity to qualify for internship for Christian Recovery Centers, Inc

Residents seeking employment with Christian Recovery Center, Inc must have certified Leadership Development Initiative training hours completed as well as a recommendation from their immediate supervisor.

WRP offered in multiple locations with a multitude of career and trade pathways

“Skills and Work Ethic Aren’t Taboo”

Provided by: Mike Rowe Work Ethic Certification Course

- 1: Gratitude For Work - I believe that I have won the greatest lottery of all time. I am alive and I walk the Earth. I live in America. Above all things, I am grateful.
- 2: Life, Liberty, And The Pursuit Of Happiness - I understand that happiness and the pursuit of happiness are not the same thing.
- 3: Opportunity - I believe that there is no such thing as a bad job. I believe that all jobs are opportunities and it is up to me to make the best of them.
- 4: Passion - I do not follow my passion. I bring it with me.
- 5: Avoid Debt - I deplore debt and do all I can to avoid it. I would rather live in a tent and eat beans than borrow money to pay for a lifestyle that I can’t afford.
- 6: Safety At Work - Safety is my responsibility. I understand that being in compliance does not necessarily mean I’m out of danger.
- 7: Distinguish Yourself - I believe that the best way to distinguish myself at work is to show up early, stay late, and cheerfully volunteer for every crappy task there is.
- 8: Complaining - I believe that the most annoying sounds in the world are whining and complaining. I will never make them. If I am unhappy at work, I will either find a new job or find a way to be happy.
- 9: Education Is My Responsibility - I am resolved to learn as much as I can from whatever source is available to me. I will never stop learning and understand that library cards are still free.
- 10: Choices Not Circumstances - I will never blame anyone for my shortcomings or the challenges that I face. I will never accept the credit for something I didn’t do.
- 11: Fairness - I understand that the world is not fair- and I am fine with that fact. I will not resent the success of others.
- 12: Equal Opportunity - I believe that all people are created equal. I also believe that people make choices. Some choose to be lazy. Some choose to sleep in. I choose to work hard everyday.

Clinical Service & Counseling Definition for Treatment Programs

Purpose: To provide a reduced physical workload and expanded clinical focus for residents who are in earlier phases while training more mature residents for the reality of engaging with society on a productive level and simultaneously managing the needs of their personal recovery.

Process: As residents work their way through the 4 phases of the inpatient recovery program, they'll experience progressive involvement with more hands-on vocational training and, in exchange, will see fewer classroom hours. This process is part of a series of stepped transitions that allow residents as many clinical and counseling services as possible during their time in the recovery program while also beginning to prepare them for the full-time work they'll be experiencing post-graduation.

The priorities for each phase will vary slightly as residents advance through the program so that the balance will shift slowly over time from clinical services to occupational training. Initially, residents will be assigned low-impact activities in an effort to provide time for the brain and body to heal from the damage of aggressive substance use. Each phase thereafter will increase the amount of physical activity so that during the final phase of the program residents should be capable of engaging in work activities for approximately 30-32 hours per week. They will achieve this while still participating in recovery functions like group substance use counseling, church services, and pastoral counseling. This interaction with a variety of experiences is designed to demonstrate to the residents that they will have time for employment while maintaining active participation in recovery-based interests. The determining factor is often the individuals' willingness to dedicate personal time to positive avenues that will provide productive results.

How do we know? We've worked with hundreds of individuals and studied the results carefully to assemble the most commonly positive characteristics of those who reported success after 1 year. When surveyed, some of our past residents who were found unsuccessful on their annual check-in reported that they were able to make time to do all the recovery work while they were in the program, but when they graduated, got a full-time job, and were no longer held to a specific standard, they felt that they "couldn't make time" to continue participating in recovery activities. Essentially, this process has been designed to replicate the application of a healthy recovery experience with real-world examples.

The following guidelines are enforced on an individual basis:

Workforce Redevelopment Training Hours:

- Moto- 0% No Occupational Services (Community Service only, minimal)
- Phase 1- 25% ≤16 Hours
- Phase 2- 50% ≤24 Hours
- Phase 3- 75% ≤32 Hours
- Phase 4 Transitional- 95% ≤40 Hours of personal employment, 2 Hours community service

Clinical Service & Counseling Attendance (units per week):

- Moto - 20 Hours Addiction therapy/counseling (group and individual), 1 Peer Counseling Session
- Phase 1- .5 Individual Substance Use Counseling, .5 Pastoral Counseling, 1 Peer Counseling Session
- Phase 2- .5 Individual Substance Use Counseling, .5 Pastoral Counseling, .5 Peer Counseling Session
- Phase 3- .5 Individual Substance Use Counseling, 1 Exit Planning (in place of Peer Session), .5 Pastoral Counseling
- Phase 4/LDI - (Available) .25 Peer Session for budget and transition planning

At the conclusion of each phase of the program, the number of times the resident attended each activity should average based on the listed weekly amount in relation to how many weeks the resident was in each respective phase. E.g. Resident A is nearing completion of Phase 2 after 6 weeks. Each number listed in the Phase 2 category should be multiplied by 6 to determine Resident A's attendance requirement to qualify for advancement into the next phase, which would be:

- 3 Individual Substance Use Counseling
- 3 Pastoral Counseling Sessions
- 3 Resident Meetings

Items may be substituted (within reason- excessive substitution should be avoided whenever possible) to ensure attention is given to each resident on a person-centered basis.

Additional Description of Phases

Residents entering CRCI programs will begin their new life in recovery by initially being placed into a “beginner” phase, which CRCI has designated the “Motivational Track.” The Motivational Track provides comprehensive clinical services to residents in the early stages of their recovery journey. As part of this track, residents will attend Southeastern Integrated Care (SEIC) each week, Monday through Friday, for four hours per day, participating in intensive counseling sessions. These sessions are designed to address the underlying issues related to their addiction and support their transition into the recovery phase of the program. Additionally, residents will attend one peer counseling meeting per week, fostering a supportive community and encouraging mutual support among peers. In addition to this high level of care, residents in this phase will have the opportunity to learn Recovery 101 at a CRCI campus, which begins with the basics of accountability and forgiveness and primarily highlights the clinical aspects of the program. One may refer to the Motivational Track as the “treatment” portion, and it grants the new resident an opportunity to begin their growth with a high level of supervision by qualified and experienced individuals.

Progression:

Activities are tracked constantly and residents will be promoted based on their performance and personal desire to move forward in their recovery process. Residents progress through the program by meeting certain time and attendance requirements and submitting and application for promotion at the appropriate time. Each application will be reviewed and compared against any disciplinary actions they may have earned, and if it is deemed appropriate, the resident will be approved for advancement. When residents complete the entire portion of the inpatient residential services, they may be provided with an opportunity to extend their stay further by entering our Phase 4 Re-Entry Program. Phase 4 will offer multiple opportunities, and residents will have the ability to choose a trade pathway (as a Social Enterprise Technician) or a career pathway (as a member of the Leadership Development Initiative). Trade pathways will create immediate employment opportunities within one of our various enterprises, and the LDI will be an intensive training process of developing the future leaders of the recovery program. LDI participants will receive educational benefits and work towards multiple college-level certifications, state licenses, and may include traditional college or seminary education.

CRCI Resident Rights

CRCI management recognizes the following fundamental rights of each resident in our facilities. These rights are non-negotiable and designed to provide a supportive environment for all residents:

1. Right to Adequate and Appropriate Food, Housing, and Clothing: Every resident is entitled to receive all items necessary to meet their basic human needs.
2. Right to a Clean and Safe Living Environment: CRCI is committed to providing residents with a clean, and safe environment that promotes well-being and overall health. It is the responsibility of both the staff and residents to ensure the standards of personal hygiene are kept.
3. Right to Assigned Personal Bed: Each resident will be allocated a personal bed, however, other temporary sleeping arrangements on a cot, couch, or floor mat may be used in times of high occupancy to address emergency housing needs.
4. Right to Communication: Residents, after completing the probationary period, have the opportunity to maintain appropriate communication with immediate family, within the bounds of our contact policy and with respect to the safety of each resident.
